Annual Report of Mrs. John O. Miller Library Issued to Speak Here

Shows Great Decrease of Circulation

The Community Library has closed the records for the third calendar year of its existence, and it takes pride in submitting the figures to the community whose interest has made the library possible. The increase in the number of books is very gratifying, the total number of books circulated justifies the efforts which have been made to satisfy the needs of a reading community, but the work which does not show altogether in these records—the work which the librarians feel is the most difficult and at the same time the most important—is the assistance which they give to boys and girls of school age in reference to their school work. More and more frequently are the pupils of our schools being taught to use the resources of a library, and more and more frequently are they sent to the Narberth Library for necessary information. The Narberth Library is not yet as fully prepared as it would like to be to serve in this capacity, but with the assistance of its many friends it makes the greatest possible use of what resources it has.

Below is a copy of the report which the Library has filed with the State Library, and following that is a list of such things as the Library would like to have presented to it on its third birthday, which is to be observed at the staff meeting on February 4.

BOARD OF HEALTH ELECTIONS OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Board of Health of Lower Merion Township, held Monday, Jan. 7th, Dr. B. K. Wilbur was re-elected President, G. C. Anderson, Secretary; Marvin E. Reynolds, Health Officer; D. W. Horn, Ph. D., Chemist; Geo. W. Grim, V. M. D., Milk Control Officer.

The annual report for the year 1923 was read and adopted and will be presented to the Township Commissioners and the State Department of Health. The report contains much information of great interest which will appear in these columns later.

While the past year has been marked by a great deal of sickness, there have been only five deaths from reportable diseases.

The water supply has averaged well and general sanitary conditions have been improved.

The milk supply has had constant and careful supervision and Lower Merion is now practically free from tuberculosis cattle. Pasteurizing temperatures are carefully checked and farms producing certified and Raw Inspected Milk frequently inspected. Employees are under medical examination and supervision and the Milk Control work of Lower Merion, Haverford and Narberth, which are co-operating, is attracting much favorable attention in the surrounding communities and even in Philadelphia.

CARD PARTY

A very successful card party was held by the auxiliary of the Tennis Club last night at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Claimed that American girls are getting "hard boiled," but that can't be because they spend so much time over the cookstove.

Under Auspices of League of Women Voters

The Narberth League of Women Voters is to be congratulated upon its success in procuring the consent of their state chairman, Mrs. John O. Miller, of Pittsburgh, to come to Narberth and speak on the Constitutional Convention on Thursday evening, Feb. 14.

Both men and women alike having once heard Mrs. Miller are eager to embrace any additional opportunities to hear her presentation of a political subject.

So reserve the evening of Feb. 14th. Details of the program will be printed in a later issue.

Local League Meets

One of the most interesting programs of the League was presented at its regular meeting Monday, the fourteenth. There was a large attendance which was very inspiring and gratifying, and judging from the enthusiasm members are anxious to hear about the important matters in their own community.

The paper on Health given by Mrs. Romaine Hoffman, who is a member of our local Board of Health, revealed many interesting statistics on this subject.

"History and Population" was the other subject which was so ably and interestingly handled by Mrs. Robert F. Wood. Other subjects equally pertinent to our community and environs will be given at each meeting for the balance of the year.

Members also evidenced a great deal of interest in the parliamentary drill given by Mrs. E. C. Batchelor. This feature will also be continued for several meetings. There will be something to learn each time on the foregoing subjects, and it is the aim of the League to make members and friends feel that the time devoted to these meetings is well spent. Proposed amendments to the By-Laws were read.

The League has had on its Legislative program two election law reforms, namely the elimination of the poll tax as a qualification for voting and an amendment of election laws prohibiting assistance to voters unless they are physically incapable of marking the ballot and requiring affidavit of the necessity of assistance at both the primary and general election. The League has also given its support to the Ludlow Bill which deals with county tax and assessment laws.

The above reforms and some of the recent important activities at Washington were briefly reviewed by the President.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 11th, and Mrs. Leroy Douglass, chairman of Welfare, will have the arrangements for this meeting in hand.

It is hoped that women representatives on our county boards of institutions will be present to tell the local group about these organizations. About twenty-five men and women attended the lecture at Bryn Mawr Monday evening on Immigration, by Mr. W. W. Husband, Commissioner-General of Immigration at Washington. Transportation by automobile was provided by several good friends and the League takes this opportunity of thanking all of them. There will be a card party at the home of Mrs. Carroll Downes, Woodside Ave., on Friday, Jan. 25th, the proceeds to go toward the League's assessment.

If you desire a reservation phone Narberth 346.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

A most delightful program has been scheduled for the next regular meeting of the Women's Community Club to be held in the club rooms next Tuesday afternoon at 2.30.

The program will be entirely musical, observing "MacDowell Memorial Week." The Club Chorus, which needs no introduction, will render several selections, and Mr. Raymond Vetter, violinist, will be on hand to give you a number of instrumental solos. Mrs. James L. Donnelly will give a reading on "The Life of Edward MacDowell." Mrs. J. E. Burrell will be the hostess for the afternoon.

Much interest is being shown in the Parliamentary Law Class, held on alternate Tuesdays from 1 to 2 P. M., just before the regular Club meetings. Judging from the laughter that emanated from behind the wooden screens in the club rooms at the last meeting, the members are finding this class most entertaining, as well as instructive. Mrs. E. C. Batchelor is in charge of this class.

ANOTHER DANCE

Those that attended the New Year's Dance of the Tennis Club are taking about it yet, and well they may because it was without doubt the best of the season, and as one member puts it, "Each one seems better than the previous ones." That is just what the Entertainment Committee are striving to do, and they say that they Club Dance on Saturday, Jan. 26th, will eclipse all others. No money or effort has been spared to bring these dances up to the highest plane possible, and every effort is expended to afford the members and their guests all possible enjoyment. The next dance will disclose many innovations, and the hall decorations as planned will be both unique as well as beautiful. Special music has also been assembled. Saturday, the 26th, looks like a big night, and it is to be regretted that the capacity of the hall is limited.

CONCERT TOMORROW

The Main Line Orchestra will celebrate the first anniversary of its organization with a concert for the members of the supporting association next Sunday afternoon, at the Ardmore Theatre.

This amateur organization has made really remarkable progress in a year's time. One of the numbers on Sunday's program is a part of Schubert's Unfinished Symphony and there are one or two even more difficult selections that are seldom attempted by young amateur symphony orchestras. Conductor Adolph Vogel is proud of the advance made by his musicians.

The soloist will be a remarkably talented young pianist, Miss Sallie Caskin, daughter of Mrs. Langdon Caskin, of Overbrook. Miss Caskin first appeared in public at the Bellevue Stratford two years ago, at the age of eleven. Recently she appeared at a recital in Steinway Hall, New York. This will be her first appearance, publicly, on the Main Line.

DEBATE

The Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 256, American Legion, is completing plans for the word battle to be held in Elm Hall Monday, January 28th.

The combatants will be Mr. Arthur W. Burns, of Narberth, who favors the Government gift to the ex-service men, and Mr. Archibald Webster, of Philadelphia, who will defend the negative.

Officials of the Post have extended special invitations to the women, feeling that every voter will be interested in the debate. All residents are urged to be on hand, as the contest is sure to be informative, at least.

WHO SAYS "WHAT'S THE USE?"

A young man ran for the Legislature of Illinois, and was badly swamped.

He next entered business, failed, and spent 17 years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner.

He was in love with a beautiful young woman to whom he became engaged—then she died.

Entering politics again, he ran for Congress, and was badly defeated. He then tried to get an appointment to the United States Land Office, but failed.

He became a candidate for the United States Senate, and was badly defeated.

Then he became a candidate for the Vice-Presidency and was once more defeated.

One failure after another—bad failures—great setbacks. Then he became one of the greatest men of America—Abraham Lincoln.

Who says, "Oh, what's the use?"

Good opportunities are always knocking, and some people are willing to accept them if somebody else will get up and open the door.

High School Team King's Daughters Forging Ahead in Anniversary

Narberth Prominent in L. M. Basketball

With two regulars and a substitute on the boys basketball team, and with two girls, Anna Sell and Elizabeth England, on the Girls' aggregation, Narberth is evidencing considerable interest in the rapid improvement being shown in Lower Merion's record.

Narberth has stood in past years for the pinnacle in basketball, and the teams from this small High School have gone forth and wiped up many quintettes from schools several times their size. Thus it is to be expected that two out of the five regulars so far in the line-up should be Narberthites. In addition to Gilfillan and Savill, Foote is a substitute.

Two thrilling victories, one over the fast Upper Darby High School five and the other over the Lansdowne High quintet, composed the delectable dish served the Lower Merion High students during the week by Coach Forstburg's surprise basketball team. The two wins came as a most pleasant surprise, for they were registered after two straight defeats, one at the hands of Jenkintown High by a 24-3 score.

Upper Darby was toppled last Friday afternoon at the gym at the school in Ardmore by a 15-12 count. U. D. came down to the Main Line with an imposing string of eight straight victories in pre-league games, and while it was not conceded victor by the Maroon and White students, it was admitted that the Upper Darbyites looked like favorites.

The game was the last thing in thrills and excitement. The going was nip and tuck throughout, and it was only in the final seconds of play that Coach Forstburg's players made victory certain. The score at the end of the first half stood tied at 9 all.

Lansdowne Second Victim

The second game, the one with Lansdowne, at Lansdowne, Tuesday afternoon of this week, was likewise a neck-and-neck affair, the final score being 24-22 in Lower Merion's favor. The decision here again was not won until the last minutes of play and the tally at the end of the first half stood 17-16 in favor of Lansdowne.

Lansdowne started off in great style, and in the first few minutes of play gave Lower Merion rooters heart failure and visions of certain defeat. Five minutes after the opening whistle had sounded the score stood 17-1 in favor of Lansdowne. Coach Forstburg's passers staged a great rally and soon began to creep up on their opponents. At no time after that was either side in a commanding lead. The lead saw-sawed continually, and it was not until the final shrill blast of the referee's whistle had sounded that the pulses of the L. M. H. S. rooters went back to normal.

Line-up

In both games Coach Forstburg started the following combination: Frank Hutchinson.....Forward John Gilfillan.....Forward Bob Savill.....Centre Captain David Bevan.....Guard Paul Scull.....Guard These men have been working together extraordinarily well, and it is likely that they will form the regular varsity five for the remainder of the season.

Lower Merion is making a reputation for itself in its low score and closely played games. After opening its season with an overwhelming de-

YOUNG PEOPLE OF THE MAIN LINE TO HEAR RUFUS M. JONES

The Federation of Young People of the Main Line announces a great treat for the young people from Overbrook to Paoli. It is nothing less than an evening with Professor Rufus M. Jones, of Haverford College. The subject on which he will speak will be: "Young People and Religion." The address will be followed by open discussion.

All young people, whether or not connected with churches or societies, are invited to be present. Every town should be well represented.

The place is Ardmore—in the First Baptist Church, Cricket Avenue near Lancaster Pike, and the time is Friday evening, February 1st, at 7.30 o'clock.

Any group of young people that wishes to be officially associated with the Federation is asked to select a representative to report at this meeting. Business is likely to be transacted.

Narberth is Home of State Holiday House

Narberth, the focal point of the Pennsylvania King's Daughters, has joined with the other chapters all over the world in celebrating the 38th anniversary of the founding of the organization.

The observance was held in many churches last Sunday, but the local chapter commemorated the anniversary to their regular meeting on Friday of last week, and in recognition of the date made a special contribution of $25 to the Margaret Bottom Settlement House in New York City.

The first King's Daughters' Circle was formed in New York City on January 13, 1886, by Mrs. Margaret Bottom, who invited several of her friends to her home to form a sisterhood of service. The name selected was that of King's Daughters, which, in 1889, was changed to King's Daughters and Sons; the badge of the order was made purple with a silver maltese cross; the motto chosen was "Look up, not down; look forward, not backward; look out, not in; lend a hand." "Not to be ministered unto but to minister" was made the text of the organization, and the watchword selected was "In His Name."

The King's Daughters were pioneers in Christian unity. They restricted their membership to no one denomination and in the first circle there were representatives of the Methodist, the Episcopal, the Presbyterian and the Quaker faiths.

The original circle had ten members. This grew rapidly as new members were drawn from the home, church and school until in a national roll call taken during the past year it was found that there are now 60,000 members.

In Every State

The order has circles in also every state of the Union, and practically every civilized country of the world. Miss Susan Parr Brockshire, of Mass., is in charge of the foreign organization of the King's Daughters. She reports in a recent issue of the "Silver Cross," the monthly magazine of the King's Daughters, that records show a world membership in the King's Daughters of over 70,000 women.

All kinds of charity work is done by the organization. Its motto is "Anything that makes a human being happier is proper work for the King's Daughters," and with this as a guide it has engaged in general charity work in hospitals and in the establishment of homes for crippled children, incurables and homes for the aged.

Each state has a special interest or project, and in Pennsylvania this is the Holiday House, at Narberth. Located on Sabine Avenue, near Wynnewood, this home is familiar to many local residents.

The house itself is the gift of Miss Mary K. Gibson, and has been the home of this work since 1912. The Holiday House was started by the Montgomery County King's Daughters, and was later turned over to the State organization, under whose direction it is now operated.

At the present time it is open for a period of three months during the summer, and the building is rented for the remainder of the year. As soon as sufficient funds have been secured it is planned to open the home for the entire year and make it a refuge for aged women.

During the past summer, over 200 mothers and children were given 12-

NEXT WEEK

The Narberth Civic Association plans to hold its second Directors' meeting of the year next Wednesday night. Much work is planned, including the election of several new Directors.

Mr. Ralph S. Dunne, the Treasurer, has been busy enrolling a number of sustaining members, to back up the future activities of the Association, which will require capital. He reports a splendid response.

LECTURE

Dr. Charles G. Penwick, of Bryn Mawr College, delivered a lecture on the "Present Problems of the Federal Government" at the Y. M. C. building last Friday.

The lecture was held under the auspices of a committee of women, and the proceeds were turned over to the King's Daughters.

WHY HIGHER?

When we published the story of the increase in taxes last week, we sat back and awaited the expected flood of protesting letters. But none came! That is a good sign. It shows that folks realize the inevitability of expense if we are to have the real luxury of an independent government, but more than that, it shows that there exists a feeling of confidence in our Borough officials.

The reasons for the increase are more or less obvious to those who follow the affairs of government. When the Playground Committee put the bond issue across in 1922 they proclaimed the fact that it would raise the taxes only a mill. And, mirabile dictu, we managed to get through last year without any increase at all.

Eight years ago, were you to examine the financial condition of the Borough, the result would have been a severe headache for days. We were living from hand to mouth in the worst manner. Road work was falling behind, sinking funds a joke, and the future with its responsibilities did not seem to exist.

When the present group of men took charge, they had a task ahead of them, and it has been met brilliantly. We are paying high taxes in Narberth but we are getting our money's worth, and that is all that matters in the end.

When we look at that three or four dollar increase on the tax bills this year, it will cause a momentary tremor. But at least we can console ourselves with the thought that it is "for value received."

IN WHICH WE EBB

We started the New Year's collection of printer's errors for 1924 with our friends, the Shull Lumber Company, as the victims.

In the issue of the 5th, they instructed us to print their resolution to "serve our many friends from Narberth in a manner to be worthy of their patronage." When the ad was printed the word Bala-Cynwyd appeared instead of Narberth.

That was caused by the fact that the printers of "Our Town" also print the "News of Bala-Cynwyd," and got their signals mixed. The fact is, as Mr. Alvin Shull told your quaking and penitent editor, that the friends of the company in Narberth are a close second to those in Bala-Cynwyd in numbers, and that he had no desire to be partial in his greetings to the Bala-Cynwyd iacs.

Therefore, our readers are requested to take a very black pencil, and correct the issue of January 5th—as Council would have it—"by striking out the word Bala-Cynwyd, and inserting in its place the word Narberth, so that the section as amended shall read, 'RESOLVED, That we will serve our many friends from Narberth in a manner to be worthy of their patronage.'"

And that's that.

OUR GARDENS

Taking a stroll through our estate yesterday, we found the ground frozen tight in spots, mushy in others. Not a very pleasant prospect for crops. Our delicate soul revolted from putting a digging fork into the deep yellow goo which marked the future site of the pole limas, gladioli or dahlias.

No, January is not a very encouraging time to wander forth and do garden work. But have you been reading the series of garden articles started in these columns two weeks ago? They are timely and authoritative. Furthermore, they are not written by some anemic newspaper hack in Boston or Chicago, but are written by a Narberth man, designed for the temperature and surroundings of Narberth.

You know a football team has two kinds of practice. One consists of passing the ball around, kicking, tackling, and otherwise keeping on the move. That we can compare to the work with spade and rake. But equal in importance at least is the well known "skull practice." "Oiling up the old bean," as it might be put. In our gardening lives that consists in the pleasant task of spending an evening with some catalogues, talking it over with your neighbor, and reading the garden notes in "Our Town."

We hope to put out a special garden issue this year, similar to that of last year, but several times as large. An issue which will be interesting and informative, and written for local conditions. April 19th is the date scheduled, which is the Saturday before National Garden Week.

At the present time we are doing our "skull work," consisting of getting together a few enthusiastic souls to pitch in and make this coming stunt something up to the Narberth standard for big things.

MINDING THE PUBLIC BUSINESS

A common remark much heard 25 years ago, among people inclined to be pert, was "Mind your own business." It seemed to be the motto of those days. It represented the period when the good citizen was supposed to stick strictly to his own work, pay his debts, keep the peace and let other people alone.

This saucy remark is not so much heard today. Perhaps it is out of date. Anyway, it has been discovered that under that old conception of community life, cities and towns were not getting things done. There was little force pushing for progress.

It was seen that if people wanted their home cities to go ahead, they must stop minding their own business exclusively, and at least give a little of their time to minding the public business and looking after their common interests as citizens. The remarkable civic progress accomplished during the past ten years shows this new spirit.

CONTROLLING CIVILIZATION

Modern life has built up, through a marvelous material development, a superb civilization. The triumphs of science and mechanical forces are amazing. But that civilization has gotten to a large extent out of control. It could be compared to some very superior and high powered automobile which the driver cannot steer, and which tears down the street bringing destruction and death to those who can't get out of its way.

The result of failure to control civilization is seen in the wars that have devastated the world and threaten to cause even greater losses. Also there are social strife, industrial conflict, class warfare, all equally destructive.

Men make wonderful discoveries in chemistry, for instance. Rightly handled this science should lighten the burdens of daily life. Yet by reason of our lack of control over these powers of science and civilization, men take these chemicals that should be used solely for human welfare, and suffocate human life with them and destroy cities.

The machinery and science of modern life have been compared with the story called "Frankenstein," the imaginative tale of a student who discovered the art of creating life artificially. He thereby creates a horrible yet pathetic monster, who murders his friend, and pursues his creator from land to land. Modern development, unless controlled, might likewise be a kind of Frankenstein, which turns and harrasses its creators.

Yet in spite of this menace of uncontrolled material powers, great spiritual forces are being assembled to combat them. Our schools, colleges, churches, civic organizations, etc., are all agencies tending to produce a type of character that shall be able to rule these material agencies that have such fateful power for good or evil.

BIG THOUGHTS

Big thoughts are messengers of opportunity that come to people and communities. But there is not always mental room enough to float them. They are like some great ship which sails up a river, bringing with it new opportunities of commerce. But it may find the water too shallow for it to land, so that it has to go elsewhere to deliver its rich freightage.

Many young people, as they pursue the current year of school study, are having big thoughts relative to education. Perhaps their teachers have told them what they might do if they would prepare more thoroughly for life. A big thought is signalling for entrance to the harbor of their minds.

But as they reflect the difficulties and obstacles seem to grow. They would have to give up many pleasures and devote money and effort to get the education they needed.

Some of these young people are not perhaps fitted for the higher book education. Perhaps their families need the money they could earn.

In many cases a decision to quit school and go to work may represent self-sacrifice. But in many other cases the trouble is merely that their mental channels are not deep enough for the big thought that seeks to enter.

So it is in the life of a city. Big thoughts come seeking entrance to the civic harbor. Practical suggestions are made, as to how a community might broaden its life, provide more advantages for its citizens, increase human welfare and enlightenment.

But over conservatism, too great frugality as to taxation, lack of willingness to give time and effort, are forms of silt that obstruct these channels of civic life, and make the community harbors too shallow for the great vessels of thought and action that seek to enter. Are our people in Narberth keeping their mental channels well dredged, so that they can float all the great thoughts that ask to come in and land their freight in our lives?

THOSE WHO HELPED

Everyone knows that the Narberth Fire Company is a volunteer organization. We all know that the active firemen must give a great deal of time from business or pleasure to answer the alarms which come in at all times of the day and night. But the part played by others in Narberth is often overlooked.

Most of the men who respond to the alarms are employed in mechanical and building trades. They are chosen from those whose work keeps them within the Borough during the day. When the raucous siren chants its message of haste, they must drop their work and run for Elm Hall. They may be gone for thirty minutes, or it may half a day.

And who pays the bill? Who is the eventual "goat" in the matter of the hundreds of hours of time involved in a year's fire-fighting? Not the firemen, not the company, nor yet the residents. The burden falls on the employers of these men, who, out of public spirit, stand the loss of time, rather than to "dock" their men for a piece of public service.

Foremost among these business men whose time goes into the work of combating the flames are John Miller, Ray Weiss, Edwin Wipf, Narberth Plumbing and Heating Company, Henry & Compton, William Newborg & Co., Geo. R. Markle, and Charles Funk.

Quite a list, isn't it? And the question arises, what are we going to do about it? The simplest solution is to cut down the number of alarms. Undoubtedly it would be difficult to compensate these men for the time used, but we can save much of that time. One method is to cut down the number of runs necessary to put out field of dry grass, choose a calm day, and permit the flames to spread on only one front. An old broom and a supply of water are handy things to add to your equipment when doing this work.

Your flues may not be defective, but if they are, a tremendous blaze of light wood and paper in the fireplace or stove will soon cause the firemen to drop their hammers, paint brushes and wrenches, and run for Forest avenue.

In addition to the time lost, remember that it costs from $30 to $200 for a run of the equipment, so be careful of the unnecessary alarm. We shall soon have a brand-new, shiny pumping engine. Let's keep it nicely polished in Elm Hall, so that it will be ready when one of our neighbors in another town gets careless with hot ashes or oil stove.

The thanks of the community are due to the men who are giving of their business time to the work. But the thanks should be expressed in the practical way of co-operation.

DON'T NEVER MARRY NO BLONDE

"Never"—says a Western Judge whose chief job is presiding over divorce trials—"marry a blonde. Blondes are aggressive, practical, matter of fact, restless and fond of variety. They like to roam, and unless the home is on four wheels they do not make good mates, as a rule." He advises young men to marry brunet girls with high cheek bones, big nose, and "high and square heads."

Our own advice is to play a game of Mah Jongg with the lady under consideration before signing on the dotted line, remarks the "Popular Magazine." If she knows when to say "pang" and when to say "chow" placed with caution; if she can add up the score without going mad give her an unconditional release—she is too darn smart to have to face at breakfast every morning.

The college students may not study geography, but they all know where the girls' schools are located.

Even if the garage does take considerable room in the back yard, there should be room enough left for the sawhorse.

School buildings hereabouts are said to be overcrowded. Probably the kids would be willing to stay out until more spacious quarters are provided.

A most delightful Communion, with an unusual number present and a gratifying addition to our membership, and the promise of more in the near future. The evening service was well attended and very encouraging in every way. All listened to the Word with deep interest, and we hope much good was done.

Both services were wonderfully helped and enlivened with singing by quite a large choir, under the capable direction of Mrs. S. J. Gerhard.

SCHOOL NEWS

Editors: Lois Caldwell, Helen Trowbridge, Muriel Hubbard and Ruth Caldwell.

Mr. Wilson very kindly dismissed the Freshmen girls last Tuesday afternoon in order that they could see "The Birth of a Nation."

The Latin team of the Freshmen Class, the "Victories," have to give an entertainment to the other side, the "Legio Decima." Dorothy Speck, Wallace Litchfield, Donald Taylor, John Conway and Robert Harris are going to present a Latin play, while Elizabeth Walls and Lois and Ruth Caldwell are giving a school scene. The reason for this is that the supposed-to-be victors were not victors last month in the standing of averages.

The Lower Merion basketball team defeated Narberth on Tuesday to the score of 20-6. The line up was as follows:

Center, Robert Foote.
Forward, Harry Messer, Wallace Litchfield.

Guard, John Mulligan, George McGuire.

Even though we lost, our boys played a good game considering the difference in size.

Eleanor Michalsen played several selections for the Junior High School Monday morning in assembly. They were enjoyed by all.

Miss Jenkins is planning to have some members of the Freshmen Class read and explain a few poems in assembly on Friday morning. This class is reading "One Hundred Narrative Poems" and a few of the poems will be enjoyed by younger classes.

Miss Speakman has arranged a program of MacDowell music selections that are to be given in assembly January 30. The school is going to celebrate MacDowell Memorial Week, the last week in January.

NARBERTH BASKETEERS WIN AGAIN

The Narberth basketball teams won two more games last Friday before a large crowd when the "A" team defeated the Fletcher "A" team, 33-18, and the "B" team emerged victorious over the Fletcher "B" team.

The Narberth teams play their final game of the first half of the Overbrook Church League this week when they travel to Cooper M. E. At present writing the "A" team is in a deadlock with Cooper for second place honors, each team having won 6 games and lost 3. As a silver cup goes to the second place team this game should be a thriller.

The Narberth "B" team holds undisputed possession of first place, and a win over Cooper will give them the championship by a one game margin over Wharton "B" team.

The Narberth "A" team played a good game last Friday and the larger Fletcher team was swamped under Narberth's brilliant playing.

PUSHERS

There is a kind of mental affinity between the quality called "push" and the popular mind, so that a person who manifests that trait wins the popular favor. People like to do business with him. This explains in part why so many business successes have been built on newspaper advertising.

If a producer or distributor makes it his regular practice to advertise in the newspapers, he gains two direct advantages. First, he will sell a lot of the special stuff that he advertises. If he is offering things that people want, at prices that look reasonable and attractive, people will flock to his store. Second, the habit of using this publicity conveys a general impression that a man or a store is a hustler, and is

Handle Your Income Wisely

Nearly everybody wastes enough in a score of years which, if saved and carefully invested, would make them quite independent, but the principle of small savings has been lost sight of in the general desire to become wealthy.

Our Christmas Club

was installed to give you an opportunity to save during the year and provide yourself with ample funds for next Christmas (or for any other purpose), and at the same time to afford you a most practical demonstration of the ease of accumulating money by making small weekly deposits systematically, and the results to be attained thereby.

You will never miss the small amount deposited weekly, and will be most agreeably surprised to see how easily and rapidly your fund accumulates.

While saving your money for Christmas, the habit unconsciously formed in so doing will lead to results far better than you ever dreamed of.

The earlier the habit of saving is formed, the greater will be your benefit.

leaving no stone unturned to get the best possible values. Such a place of business gives the impression that its enterprise and its energy are going to buy goods at low figures, handle them on a minimum of cost, and offer the public the best the market can show at a low price.

The existence of that impression, built up through a habit of constant advertising, will suggest to people's minds that such a store is a good place to trade at, even when they may not have noticed any announcement of bargains in the special article they are looking for.

The drawing power of push brings an increased volume of trade. The well advertised store usually does a large business, and thus the cost of operating and overhead expense is low for the trade carried on. That makes it possible to offer low prices.

Push is as magnetic as a smile and a handshake. The store that shows that quality by consistent advertising wins favor by a characteristic that appeals tremendously to the American temperament.

NATIONAL GARDEN WEEK APRIL 20 TO 26

This column will keep us in touch with what others are doing and what we can do in this national movement for more and better gardens.

Narberth's Community Flower. What is it? Or what shall it be? We should adopt one, and this column would be a good place to discuss the subject. It should be a flower that can be grown in our local gardens and without too much trouble and expense.

Only fifty more articles to write, and in these we will have opportunity to write on Shade Trees, Flowering Trees, Flowering Shrubs, Flowering Evergreen Shrubs or Broad Leaved Evergreens, Evergreen Shrubs and Trees, the Lawn, Soils and Fertilizers, Vegetable Gardens, Small Fruit or Berry Gardens, Rock Gardens, Bulb Gardens, Perennial Plants, Annuals, Bulbous Plants and Climbers.

Subjects such as Roses, Peonies, Irises, Delphiniums, Dahlias and Gladioli will be given special mention at the proper time.

Hedges as a subject seems necessary even though we do not approve of them on general principles. Fences are much preferred where a barrier or a dividing line is necessary, the maintenance cost is much less than most hedges, the fence allows the garden the sun, air and openness that the garden should have. The fence can be used to support a planting, while the hedge robs the adjoining soil.

After all, if our neighbor's dog (not our dog) and our neighbor's children (not our children) could be kept in bounds, barriers would not be necessary and our street would be one fine garden that our neighbors and we ourselves could all share.

We have carefully covered our delphiniums with sharp cinders to keep the slugs away, we have sent to England for some seeds of delphiniums and of Alpine plants for the rockery, and we are looking for the snowdrops to bloom.

Patience—the gardener's virtue—And faith in the seasons true, Carry me on from day to day, And they'll do the same for you.

PRESBYTERIANS AND LUTHERANS BOWL

The Presbyterian and Lutheran teams of the Inter-Church Bowling League postponed their game scheduled for Monday night, Jan. 14th, until Tuesday night, Jan. 15th. The Presbyterians emerged victors by winning two of three closely contested games. The Lutherans were handicapped by the absence of one of their players, but put up a hard fight just the same. Larer was high man for the night with a single score of 211, which is within one point of the record for the season made Jan. 7th, and a total score of 524, which is the record for the season. The Presbyterian team score of 2264 points is also a record breaker, being two points above the score made by the Baptists on Jan. 7th.

The score is as follows:

WILL PROSECUTE OWNERS OF DOGS NOT LICENSED

The fifteen days allowed under the present law for securing 1924 dog license tags has expired. Any dog not now wearing a collar bearing the 1924 tag will be taken up and prosecuted by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, according to an announcement issued by the State officials today.

Dog licenses can be obtained at the County Treasurer's office or from local magistrates and justices of the peace. Owners are advised not to delay the licensing of their canine charges any longer, for procrastination may add fines and costs to the license fees.

day holidays in Narberth. Boys up to the age of ten years, and girls of all ages are entertained. The house is maintained by a staff consisting of two workers, a housekeeper and a cook. The House Committee of the Board arranges for the attendance of different members throughout the summer. Much of this resident work is done by members of the Narberth Chapter.

Dr. Romaine C. Hoffman has helped the work materially since its inception by furnishing medical attention without charge, and Dr. Harry Hartley has done a similar service for aching teeth.

Each State Has Organization

Each State has a State organization which embraces all the circles within its confines. The officers of the Pennsylvania State Association are: President, Mrs. Frederick Derby, of Narberth; Treasurer, Miss Lizzie M. Wagner, of Allentown, and Secretary, Miss Irene Boyer, of Pottstown.

The Narberth Chapter was formed in 1892. Although an interdenominational body, it was connected with the Narberth Baptist Church for a number of years, and for that reason was named the Evangel Circle. Mrs. Charles Harrison, Jr., was the organizer, and meetings were held for a number of years in the church building. The Y. M. C. A. was used for a while, but the Circle later returned to the Baptist Church building. During the construction of the new edifice they are meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank H. Hewitt, 116 Essex avenue.

The officers of the Evangel Circle are: President, Mrs. Frederick Derby; Vice-President, Mrs. George Sheldon (a former resident of Narberth now living in Philadelphia); Secretary, Mrs. Etta Walker, and Treasurer, Mrs. James P. Witherow. There are three active committeemen. Mrs. Frank H. Hewitt is chairman of the Sewing Committee; Mrs. E. W. Derby and Mrs. W. I. Trotter, of the Visiting Committee, and Miss Helen Craft, of the Shut-in Committee. Meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month.

National Officers

The national officers are: Honorary President, Miss Kate Bond, New York City; President, Mrs. Robert J. Reed, Wheeling, West Virginia; First Vice President, Mrs. W. J. Bennet, Chicago; Second Vice President, Mrs. J. N. Lewis, Detroit, Michigan; Third Vice President, Miss Susan Parr Brocken, of East Milton, Mass.; Executive Secretary, Mrs. C. A. Menet, New York City; Recording Secretary, Miss Clara Moorehouse, Rochester, N. Y.; Treasurer, Miss Jennie C. Benedict, Louisville, Ky.; Editor, Mrs. Elwin L. Page, Concord, N. H.

LOWER MERION HIGH SCHOOL

feat at the hands of Jenkintown, it has registered a 15-12 victory over Upper Darby, a 24-22 win over Lansdowne, and submitted to a 16-14 beating at the hands of Media.

Following is the record to the present, barring yesterday's game, with the dates in all the facts:

January 4 (away)—Lower Merion, 4; Jenkintown, 3.
January 8 (away)—Lower Merion, 14; Media, 16.
January 11 (home)—Lower Merion, 15; Upper Darby, 12.
January 15 (away)—Lower Merion, 24; Lansdowne, 22.
Totals—Lower Merion, 57; opponents, 53.

Yesterday the team played Darby, at Darby. Next week it will play Chester on Tuesday afternoon, and Norristown on Friday afternoon. Both games will be played at home. Yesterday morning the assembly exercises in the auditorium were given over to a program dealing with the American Peace Plan. A short play, consisting of a number of oral compositions on Plan No. 1469, which was awarded the Bok peace prize, was given. The students taking part were Walter Cooper, Marcus Goulding and Josephine Borrett.

Franklin Program

On Thursday, in assembly, a short play dealing with the life and works of Benjamin Franklin was given. The play was given by members of Miss Bishoff's class.

Franklin's arrival in Philadelphia and his rise to wealth and fame were described in detail. Thursday was the anniversary of the famous publisher's birth.

No assembly was held Tuesday, due to the coldness of the auditorium.

Senior Play

The Senior Dramatic Society gave a series of three plays in the auditorium at assembly yesterday. The plays were in charge of Russell Byrnes, Dorothy Cross and Sara Brook.

The Welfare Club is busy helping the school authorities with problems around school. It is now devoting its attention to the task of getting the students to go up the right side of the stairways and to seeing that dishes are returned to the counter in the cafeteria and properly piled. Meetings of the club are held every other Monday.

Bob Savill who has been starring at center on the basketball team was declared ineligible Thursday due to his scholastic standing. He will therefore be unable to play in any of the games until the faculty ban is lifted. Lloyd Dilworth is expected to replace him at center in the varsity line-up.
